THE CULTURE OF VIOLENCE

JOYSTICK WARRIORS: Video Games, Violence and the Culture of Militarism

*Clip on website

For years, there has been widespread speculation, but very little consensus, about the relationship between violent video games and violence in the real world. JOYSTICK WARRIORS provides the clearest account yet of the latest research on this issue. Drawing on the insights of media scholars, military analysts, combat veterans, and gamers themselves, the film trains its sights on the wildly popular genre of first-person shooter games, exploring how the immersive experience they offer links up with the larger stories we tell ourselves as a culture about violence, militarism, guns, and manhood.

THE VIRUS OF VIOLENCE *Clip on website

Are violent video games in any way responsible for recent mass killings perpetrated by young men? In this video a retired army colonel presents evidence to substantiate that connection. His premise is based on the fact that modern soldiers who are being prepared for battle, undergo a planned deconditioning process that allows them to dehumanize their "enemies" in the field, a process that he claims is very similar in effect to that experienced by children, youths and even adults subjected to hour upon hour of violent video games. Very troubling and quite convincing. #15811/0203 28 minutes 2005 $149.95 *SA

AGGRESSION: Is Violence Learned? *Clip on website

Are all people capable of murder? What drives people to violence? Can TV affect our actions and even influence us to acts of violence? This interview-led documentary style program examines aggressive media, aggressive behavior and the banality of evil with the support of original film footage of research and actual crimes. An excellent resource for studies in applied psychology, this program features research psychologists providing explanations and reasoning behind aggression. #15749/0545 22 minutes 2013 $129.95 *CC *SA

THE ROOTS OF VIOLENCE *WINNER! Honorable Mention at the Columbus Film Council Chris Awards

This program is Part One of THE VOICES OF VIOLENCE series. Ten experts elucidate the root causes of violent behavior and offer a probing look into the unsettling childhood experiences of violent offenders, examining the disturbed parent-child attachment styles, destructive thought processes, and distorted social perceptions that underlie violence. In addition to the expert commentary, riveting interviews with both incarcerated and rehabilitated offenders offer direct insight into the thinking that led to violent crimes.

#14699/1745 59 minutes 2011 $159.95 *CC

New! GUNS AT SCHOOL (Real Life Teens)

Discusses the causes of violence in schools, gun control and what can be done to keep students and faculty safe at school. Interviews students about this tragic yet reoccurring problem. Along with clinical perspectives from teen psychological counselor, teens speak honestly and candidly about how guns and violence impact their lives both in school and within their community. Licensed Clinical Counselor, Tom Danis, M.Ed. discusses the causes of violence at school.

New! YOUNG GUNS: A Diane Sawyer Special

*Clip on Website

Diane Sawyer explores the truth about children and gun safety in this compelling ABC News report. Hidden cameras reveal shocking examples of what kids do when parents are not looking. Some parents argue that teaching kids about guns is enough to prevent tragedy. Those who have experienced gun deaths first hand explain why talking is not enough.

RUMORS, GOSSIP, AND TEASING: It Hurts

In this program students will learn that rumors, gossip, teasing and taunting are all forms of harassment. Rumors and gossip don't just hurt the person talked about but also hurt those who do the talking. Try to steer clear of people who spread rumors and gossip. One of the best ways to deal with teasing and taunting is to ignore it. And speak up. Don't stand by when you see bullying happen!

#14714/0433 15 minutes 2012 $79.95 Grades 3 to 6 *SA

New! STOP BULLYING with Mike Hall *Clip on website*

Mike Hall has spent years studying and documenting the 'bullying' phenomena and speaks to about two hundred audiences of kids each year on the topic. Mike teaches kids who are the victims of bullying a proven method for disarming perpetrators; a method simply called the FOUR C's. Mike says to be ... CALM, CONNECTED, CONFIDENT and last but not least COMPLIMENT THE BULLY! Mike explains that what motivates bullies is not always what it seems to be so DON'T retreat into yourself, get lonely, depressed and DON'T become angry, get violent, DON'T "give them what's coming"! Mike explains how to put the FOUR C's to work instead.

#15830/1710 22 minutes 2014 $129.95 *SA

New! BULLYING AND SUICIDE: Think About It

Bullying is a leading factor in suicide among kids 11 to 16 years of age. And although bullying is only one of a number of suicide-related risk factors impacting tweens and teens, the fact that the term "bullycide" has entered the lexicon is a telling sign of how closely linked bullying and suicide are perceived to be. Structured around two scenarios in which a boy and a girl commit suicide after repeatedly being bullied, this video offers valuable insights into bully and victim psychology, types of bullying, and anti-bullying behavior through penetrating commentary by experts. In addition, alternate scenarios are included that illustrate how bystanders to bullying can help neutralize some of the cumulative psychological effects of bullying that could - and too frequently do - push students to take their own lives.

THE BOY GAME *Clip on website

"If the conversation about bullying is going to advance, this is the project to help us advance it."

Michael Kimmel, author of Pulitzer nominated, Manhood in America

Recommended by Video Librarian, THE BOY GAME unpacks the complex dynamics that lead some boys to bully and the majority, who are bystanders, to stand watching in silent conflict. Boys desperately need a way to talk about the pressures they face in order to develop the resilience needed to stand up, be themselves, and redefine masculinity in terms of emotional, tolerant strength. And girls and all of us of who care about peer violence among boys need to be part of the conversation. THE BOY GAME is powerful resource for use in Middle and High schools,

*** See also RESTORATIVE JUSTICE in the NATIVE Section

SENTENCE APART (A) *Clip on website

Behind the millions of prisoners in North America lies an infinite ripple effect of incarceration on the family and community. A SENTENCE APART follows three stories of people coping with a family member in prison, attempting to bridge broken relationships, and diligently working to reverse the generational cycle of incarceration. These intimate and moving stories start to scratch the surface of the complex toll incarceration takes on the world outside of the prison walls. #15687/1416 12 minutes 2012 $189.95 *CC *SA

LOST FOR LIFE: A Documentary about Juveniles Who Are Serving Life in Prison without Parole

A documentary about juveniles who are serving life in prison without parole. All are guilty of first-degree murder. The film examines the sometimes unanswerable questions: What is justice when a kid kills? Can a horrific act place a life beyond redemption? Are there alternatives for kids like these? Or do we simply dispose of them? #15743/0605 75 minutes 2013 $299.95

POPULATION AGING AND THE CHALLENGES FOR CORRECTIONS *Clip on website

Within the last decade, the number of prisoners aged 50 or older has increased by more than 50%. Many incarcerated aging people exhibit health degradation more commonly associated with much older persons. Part One explains some of the features, causes, challenges and concerns of this increasing population of aging offenders. Part Two presents an array of experience and perspectives which reinforces the importance of human relationship in dealing with our incarcerated citizens. #15233/0867 Two programs 2012 $189.95 *SA

New! LOCKED UP IN AMERICA: Solitary Nation & Prison State

For decades, the United States has been fixated on incarceration, building prisons and locking up more and more people. But at what cost, and has it really made a difference? FRONTLINE goes to the epicenter of the raging debate about incarceration, focusing on the controversial practice of solitary confinement and on new efforts to reduce the prison population, as officials are rethinking what to do with criminals. Award-winning director and producer Dan Edge gives viewers these raw and unforgettable firsthand accounts from prisoners, prison staff, and people whose lives are forever altered by this troubled system. #15883/1725 Two programs 2014 $99.95 *CC

BRAINS ON TRIAL with Alan Alda *Clip on website

Is a witness lying? How reliable is eyewitness testimony? What's the best way to avoid a biased jury? How well can the defendant's intentions be judged? Alan Alda explores how brain-scanning technology is providing insights into these questions and discusses the implications of neuroscience entering the courtroom. Could these developments in neuroscience assist the criminal justice system? By visiting and participating in a dozen experiments, Alda gains insights into how, and what, the jurors, judges, witnesses and attorneys are thinking - insights that may one day influence how the criminal justice system operates, and in some cases are already doing so. #15634/1725 120 minutes 2013 $99.95 *CC

IN YOUR HANDS: Life after Prison *Clip on website

For ex-convicts, the road back into society is paved with good intentions. But a freed prisoner's plans for the future can quickly go awry, and the local support system, if one exists, may be just as ineffectual. Do public services provide what a former inmate needs? Is the "system" a safety net or a trap, every bit as confining as prison? This film documents two case studies in which the end of incarceration means not only a fresh start but also a new phase of hardship, hard luck, and hard-won dignity.*Contains profanity and mature subject matter.

SEX EDUCATION & GENDER ISSUES

New! SEX(ED): The Movie \*Clip on website

When we learn about sex, we don't just learn about social mores and biology; what we learn affects our identity, our relationships and our ability to be intimate throughout our lives. Many people look back at how they learned about sex, whether it was a book, an embarrassing parental chat, a school presentation, or porn, and remember their shock and embarrassment. Sex(ed) captures the humor and vulnerability of those experiences while allowing us to look at the various agendas that shaped the content. To get at the truth behind the history and current state of sex education, SEX(ED) examines sex education films from the 1910s up to the present day. Often hilarious, sometimes instructive, and almost always awkward and embarrassing, these films reflect the changing moral, cultural and political attitudes that inspired them.

GAY, STRAIGHT AND ACCEPTED \*Clip on website

Life can get confusing for adolescents when they begin to develop sexual attractions. Through the perspective of straight teenagers, we meet students coming to terms with how they feel and dealing with the anxiety of "coming out". In the end students will realize that sexual orientation should not be isolating. At the end of this program students will learn the following: * Having sexual feelings and attractions, of any orientation, is a normal part of growing up. * Being gay or lesbian can make a teen feel different and confused; it is important to deal with those feelings and not suppress them. * Gay and lesbian teens should not to hide who they are. * Find a support system - people you can talk to, trust, and rely on. * Straight teens should speak up if they see gays being bullied and harassed. #14716/0433 30 minutes 2012 $79.95 *Includes CD Guide Grades 9 to 12 *SA

New! JUST GENDER (Full Version) \*Clip on website

JUST GENDER tackles the all too often misunderstood world of transgender. Through interviews of transgendered persons, their family members and friends, health care experts, community leaders and others who work with the transgender community, the film explores the common myths and misunderstandings about transgendered people. The documentary also explores the confusion between sexual orientation and gender identity, as reflected in the rigid binary view of the world generally held by society and touches on the discrimination, hardships and brutality resulting from those misconceptions and prejudices, including the numerous deaths caused by hate each year.

#15824/1065 90 minutes 2013 $249.95 *SA

(Also available in a 22 minute version for schools #15829/1065 for $129.95)

New! PUZZLES: When Hate Comes to Town

LGBT people are far more likely than any other minority group to be victimized by violent hate crimes. PUZZLES tells the story of a hate crime in a gay bar when a teenager entered and brutally attacked its patrons. As a result two different worlds collide, a homophobic hate-crime offender and his victims. Puzzles explores the correlation between economic desperation and homophobia, intolerance, and, ultimately, violence.

Dr. Neufeld brings a fresh and promising perspective to one of our most troubling and perplexing human problems. #14987/1400 Four one-hour sessions 240 minutes 2012 $129.95

ADHD Rush Hour \*Clip on website

The issues surrounding ADHD are fiercely debated. Who decides when rambunctious behavior has become a psychiatric concern? Do the benefits of Ritalin outweigh its risks? Is ADHD even a true disorder, or just another way for pharmaceutical companies to make money? This program speaks with students diagnosed with ADHD and to nearly a dozen medical and academic experts about its identification and treatment.

NATIVE SPECIFIC ISSUES

COMMUNITY HEALING PROGRAMS with Rupert Ross *Clip on website

Rupert Ross, former Crown Prosecutor, expected important systemic changes in Canada's formal justice system in wake of the Gladue decision (R.V. Gladue 1999). After his expectations failed to be realized, Ross suggests there are fundamental differences in the idea and practice of justice in Aboriginal society versus western society. Ross explains that we need to reconsider justice by focusing on relationships and adopt alternative, open-minded approaches to sentencing through community building. #15693/0867 18 minutes 2013 $149.95 *SA

INDIGENOUS HEALING AND PSYCHOTHERAPEUTIC INTERVENTION: Complicating the Prospects for Integration

*Clip on website and *Online Preview

Multiculturalist psychologists have effectively advocated for "culturally competent" counseling interventions. They often cite traditional healing as an important resource for developing integrative forms of psychotherapy that are distinctively tailored to diverse populations. And yet, detailed consideration of this integrative project has appeared infrequently in psychology literature. Drawing on documented examples of indigenous healing practices from Northern Plains American Indian communities, Dr. Joseph Gone explores the prospects for integrating traditional healing and contemporary psychotherapy. #15694/1410 50 minutes 2013 $199.95 *SA

RESTORATIVE JUSTICE IS THE LAW *Clip on website

DARK SIDE OF A PILL (THE) *Clip on website

This is an exclusive, case-driven investigation into the one of the medical success stories of our time. One in ten adults in the Western world is on antidepressants. With global sales of approximately 20 billion dollars, these prescription drugs are among the most lucrative products of the medical industry. But the wonder drug has a dark side. Violence and even murders are now being associated with prescribed antidepressants in situations and with people who otherwise show no signs of extreme behavior. This is not a film that is for or against antidepressants. It is about informed consent and about openly acknowledging the real problems with medicating 10 to 15 percent of the population with a drug that changes the chemistry of the brain with an effect that at times can be overwhelming, even fatal.

ETHICAL TEXTILES: Sustainability and Fair Trade

Global in scope, this series explores the ethical and environmental fallout of large-scale textile production. It follows the work of manufacturers in the U.K. and Bangladesh as it investigates the consequences of ultra-cheap labor and supply systems. In addition, it examines fair trade initiatives developed in response to industry abuses, inequities, and hazards. A crucial resource for economics, sociology, and environmental studies!

THE COST OF CLOTH - Filmed in Bangladesh, one of the world's most active textile-producing countries, this program explores the social cost of the textile industry, which benefits mostly Western consumers and capitalists while creating oppressive environments in the developing world.

ECO-DESIGN - The Western world still struggles for long-term solutions regarding carbon emissions, energy consumption, and waste disposal. A number of industries, including textile manufacturing, are at the heart of this dilemma.

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACTS - What would happen if we changed the way our clothes are made and sold? If we used different fibers or different agricultural techniques? If we insisted that facilities which produce textile products dispose of chemicals and materials properly?

RACE FOR WHAT'S LEFT (THE): The Global Scramble for the World's Last Resources \*Clip on website

Renowned energy expert Michael T. Klare provides an invaluable account of the new and increasingly dangerous competition for the world's dwindling natural resources. Arguing that the world is facing an unprecedented crisis of resource depletion - one that goes beyond "peak oil" to encompass shortages of coal and uranium, copper and lithium, water, and arable land - Klare shows how the desperate hunt for raw materials is forcing governments and corporations to stake their claim in ever more dangerous and remote areas that present grave political and environmental risks. #15338/0685 40 minutes 2013 $69.95 (Colleges & Universities $129.95) *CC *SA

DO THE MATH: Bill McKibben and the Fight Over Climate Change \*Clip on website

The math is simple. To avoid climate catastrophe, we have to limit carbon dioxide emissions into the atmosphere to 350 parts per million or below. The only problem? We're presently at 400 parts per million - and climbing. Bestselling author and environmental activist Bill McKibben and 350.org, the organization he founded, hit the road to raise awareness of this terrifying math and build a movement to challenge the fossil fuel industry. #15667/0685 100 minutes 2013 $149.95 (Colleges & Universities $249.95) *CC *SA

BURNING QUESTION (A): Propaganda and the Denial of Climate Change

This fascinating and clarifying look at the debate surrounding global warming explores the striking disconnect between the relatively clear-cut concerns of the world's most prominent scientists and the maze of speculation, rhetorical posturing, and outright misinformation that attaches to this issue whenever it's taken up by politicians, PR specialists, and political pundits.

OTHER KINDS OF SCIENCE

New! CELL BIOLOGY: Structure, Function and Processes *Clips on website

They are the basic building blocks of life, but in reality there's nothing "basic" about cells - the complex, versatile units of matter that make up all life on Earth. In this series, rich animation brings the intricate inner workings of cells to life, while a congenial host guides viewers through the essentials of cell biology: cell structure and function (of both animal and plant cells), cell metabolism and respiration, cell division and growth, and a focus on stem cells, cellular differentiation, genetics, and the potential that stem cells have for medical use. No-nonsense and to the point, each video is an arrangement of short, discrete segments that make this series ideal for breaking up lectures.

WASTE OF SHAME: The Mystery of Shakespeare and his Sonnets

In 1609, William Shakespeare published a collection of 154 sonnets, creating what is arguably the greatest lyric sequence in English literature – and at the center of this masterpiece lies a mystery that has endured for centuries. What are the identities of “the young man” and “the dark lady” to whom all but two of the sonnets allude? This moving performance brings to life the gritty reality of Shakespeare’s England, bits of the Bard’s plays and poems, and the consummate poet and dramatist himself as it exposes these personages unseen but so keenly felt in Shakespeare’s sonnets and in his life. Contains mature themes and explicit language. #11386/0635 86 minutes 2005 $169.95 *CC

PHOTO

Compared to painting, the creation of a photograph seems simple, requiring little more than a lens and a shutter, a subject and a source of light. But what had to be adjusted, waited for, or provoked for all the elements to come together in the frame and produce an image that once seen is never forgotten? Almost since its invention, the camera has been used not just to capture reality but to interpret it. This series from Arte France traces the adventure of this art form from its beginnings up through the 21st century, revealing the hidden stories and trade secrets concealed in a series of photographs.

CULTURE, HISTORY & OTHER SPECIAL TOPICS

New! CHILDREN OF THE WORLD SERIES

From some of the most remote locations in the world, the compelling cinematography of wide-eyed children just being kids will quickly engage audience attention. These children, like children everywhere, live their everyday life with the sweet innocence of youth combined with hopeful dreams for the future. Unlike children of more developed countries, they live in a world of limited modern day conveniences. Yet they thrive in tight-knit communities with resilience, resourcefulness and a strong sense of responsibility. This series will help expand student's worldview and understanding of cultural differences while at the same time provide a character building lesson.

CULTURAL INTERDEPENDENCE: A New Look at World Cultures "An excellent series..." *Clips on website

Technology, communications, and the Global Economy are changing the study of world cultures. INTERDEPENDENCE is a relationship in which each member is mutually dependent on the others. This concept differs from a dependent relationship, where some members are dependent and some not. In an interdependent relationship, participants may be emotionally, economically, ecologically and/or morally reliant on and responsible to each other. An interdependent relationship can arise between two or more cooperative autonomous participants.

New! WHEN THE BOUGH BREAKS *Winner of Many Awards including...

*Objectif d'or (Grand Prize), Millenium International Documentary Film Festival

*2012 International Film Festival Rotterdam

*2012 Vancouver International Film Festival

A powerful story of three siblings trying to make it in difficult circumstances, WHEN THE BOUGH BREAKS introduces us to siblings Xia, Ling and Gang; they live in a garbage-filled lot on the outskirts of Beijing, and as migrants they are prevented by China's hukou (residence permit) system from attending a free public school. So the two teenage girls struggle to earn the money to pay for their brother's private schooling, with little help from their troubled and struggling parents. WHEN THE BOUGH BREAKS at once explores the particular dynamics of one family and exposes the widespread difficulties faced by migrants living at the margins of Chinese society.

WAR AROUND US (THE)

THE WAR AROUND US tells the absorbing true story of the only two international journalists on the ground in Gaza during Israel's bombardment and invasion of the troubled Palestinian territory over a three-work period in 2008-9. Award-winning filmmaker Abdallah Omeish (Occupation 101) chronicles the experiences of Al Jazeera's Cairo-born, Arab-American Ayman Mohyeldin and Arab-British Sherine Tadros as they report from Gaza City throughout the devastating assault. With never-before-seen footage and gripping personal testimonies, the film bears witness to Israel's ongoing siege of Gaza in the wake of its withdrawal in 2005, and pays tribute to the power of journalism - and friendship - under conditions of enormous conflict and stress. The result is a deeply human glimpse into wartime reporting and life in one of the most besieged places on earth.

New! SMILING THROUGH THE APOCALYPSE **Clip on website*

Esquire magazine was a galvanizing force in American culture from the early 1960s through the early '70s. Forging its pop-cultural capital on the basis of provocative cover art, intellectual audacity and riveting articles by the preeminent and cutting edge writers of the time, the magazine captured the zeitgeist of America in the crucible of the '60s. The chief architect of this print revolution was Harold Hayes, a brilliant and tenacious editor who granted Esquire's contributors unprecedented journalistic freedom. Hayes' fearless instincts provided a haven for writers like Gore Vidal, Tom Wolfe, Gay Talese, Nora Ephron, William F. Buckley and Norman Mailer, and nurtured the iconoclastic talents of art director George Lois. By making it possible for writers and artists to bring novelistic techniques into reportage Hayes fostered what became known as "New Journalism". #15942/0645 99 minutes 2013 $299.95 *CC *SA

ECONOMIC MELTDOWN (THE): How America's Fiscal Fallout Triggered a Global Crisis

New! EVERY THREE SECONDS: It's Time **Clip on website*

"Extraordinary! It takes complex issues and challenges facing our world today and makes them accessible to everyone, from first-graders to retirees. What's more, it takes you on a journey alongside regular AND inspiring individuals who are making the world a better place -- in simple, friendly, and incredibly powerful ways. Everybody should see this movie!"

April Rinne, Sharing Economy Expert, Advisor and Social Innovator

Every three seconds someone in the world dies from factors related to extreme poverty - 30,000 people a day and 10.5 million a year. The sheer magnitude can be overwhelming, causing people to ask the question, "What can one person do, to possibly make a difference?" This film, through its portraits of five ordinary folks, will show audiences that each one of us has the potential to do great things to change the world. We hope to inspire a movement and uncover a new wave of change agents and previously untapped resources. #15952/0645 100 minutes 2013 $399.95 *CC *SA

FIRE IN THE BLOOD: A Tale of Medicine, Monopoly and Malice **Official Selection: 2013 Sundance Film Festival*

Tells the true story of how Western pharmaceutical companies and governments blocked access to low-cost AIDS drugs in Africa and the global south in the 1990s - leading to the preventable deaths of at least ten million people -- and how a remarkable coalition of people came together to stop them. #15668/0685 100 minutes 2013 $149.95 (Colleges & Universities $299.95) *CC *SA

LOVE, HATE, AND EVERYTHING IN BETWEEN: A Film on Empathy **Clip on website*

Drawing upon the work of psychologist Simon Baron-Cohen, neuroscientists Vittorio Gallese and Simone Shamay-Tsoory, futurist Jeremy Rifkin, and numerous other experts and researchers, this documentary analyzes empathy as it explores its extraordinary relevance in today's increasingly interconnected world. An important, immensely thought-provoking film that is particularly applicable to the disciplines of social, biological, educational, and forensic psychology; neuroscience; social philosophy; and sociology. *Some language may be objectionable.

New! THE FORGOTTEN SPACE **Winner of Many awards (list on file)*

"About containerization and all of its social implications, and not about the container itself... the film's power lies in the way it depicts a range of spaces that are 'forgotten' amidst the mobilities of global capitalism ... invaluable." Philip E. Steinberg, Society and Space

The "forgotten space" of this essay is the sea, the oceans through which 90% of the world's cargo now passes. At the heart of this space is the container box, which, since its invention in the 1950s, has become one of the most important mechanisms for the global spread of capitalism. The film follows the container box along the international supply chain, from ships to barges, trains, and trucks, mapping the byzantine networks that connect producers to consumers (and more and more frequently, producing nations to consuming ones). Employing a wide range of materials and styles, from interviews to classic film clips, essayistic voiceover to observational footage, THE FORGOTTEN SPACE provides a panoramic portrait of the new global economy and a compelling argument about why it must change.

INTERNET, SOCIAL MEDIA & DIGITAL

GENERATION LIKE: Are Kids Using Social Media or is Social Media Using Kids?

*Clip on website

"What's designed to look like a grassroots wave of excitement [online] is actually a meticulously planned marketing strategy." Douglas Rushkoff

This program explores how the perennial teen quest for identity and connection has migrated to social media, and exposes the game of cat-and-mouse that corporations are playing with these young consumers. The film is a powerful examination of the evolving and complicated relationship between teens and the companies that are increasingly working to target them.

*New! IN REAL LIFE *Clip on website

"Provocative, mildly terrifying and essential." The Metro

"Smart and serious! Offers a survey of the virtual world's creeping infiltration into our lives." The Independent

"This is not just a well-made film, it is the starting point of a vital discussion." The Camden New Review

"A riveting case for the prosecution of the web as a creature that bears careful watching." The Herald

IN REAL LIFE asks what exactly is the internet and what is it doing to our children? Taking us on a journey from the bedrooms of teenagers to Silicon Valley, filmmaker Beeban Kidron suggests that rather than the promise of free and open connectivity, young people are increasingly ensnared in a commercial world. Beguiling and glittering on the outside, it can be alienating and addictive. Quietly building its case, Kidron's film asks if we can afford to stand by while our children, trapped in their 24/7 connectivity, are being outsourced to the net?

SEXUALITY & SEXISM & SELF-IMAGE, RACISM & STEREOTYPES

New! BRAND NEW YOU: Makeover Television and the American Dream

What does it mean to be an authentic self when that self's image is constantly manipulated by media? For makeover shows too fat, too ugly, badly dressed, bad hair, bad teeth equals bad attitude ... is it a problem that such shows, from weight loss to cosmetic surgery, reproduce conventional norms of physical attractiveness and success? Taking a wider social and cultural view, have these programs become models of self-transformation at precisely the same time jobs have become harder to find and keep; when women and men have been forced to remake themselves to compete in a rapidly changing labor marketplace?

* Intended for courses in communication, gender studies, critical race theory, history, and sociology.

THE BRO CODE: How Contemporary Culture Creates Sexist Men

This program takes aim at the forces in (modern) male culture that condition boys and men to dehumanize and disrespect women. Even as epidemic levels of men's violence against women persist in the real world, the message uncovered in virtually every corner of our entertainment culture is clear; it's not only normal - but cool - for boys and men to control and humiliate women. The Bro Code challenges young people, young men and women alike, to step up and fight back against the idea that being a real man means being sexist. *Contains violent and sexual imagery

DANGERS OF SOCIAL MEDIA (THE) *Clip on website

Students don't often consider the dangers that social networking introduces to their lives. The content they place on the networks can easily make them very vulnerable. This program asks: What are the benefits and what are the dangers? What is the impact from incriminating and inappropriate information posted? Can postings on a network site affect employment? Also outlines the felony charges associated with sexting! #14571/2003 18 minutes 2011 $89.95

OUT OF PRINT *Clip on website

Every aspect of the written word is changing - from publishing to writing and selling to reading. If books are the foundation of civilization, how does that change the world of ideas? And how does it change us? With the unique perspective gained as a director at the Library of Congress and the UC Berkeley Library, filmmaker Vivienne Roumani tackles the questions confronting today's word industry and shows that much more is at stake than how quickly we can access the latest byte. #15686/0605 55 minutes 2013 $299.95

TOUGH GUISE 2: Violence, Manhood and American Culture *Clip on website

TOUGH GUISE 2 stands to empower a new generation of young men - and women - to challenge the myth that being a real man means putting up a false front and engaging in violent and self-destructive behavior. In a sweeping analysis that cuts across racial, ethnic, and class lines, Jackson Katz examines mass shootings, day-to-day gun violence, violence against women, bullying, gay-bashing, and American-style militarism against the backdrop of a culture that has normalized violent and regressive forms of masculinity in the face of challenges to traditional male power and authority.

*Available in two versions...

New! PORNLAND: How the Porn Industry Has Hijacked Our Sexuality *Clip on website

Pornography has moved from the margins of society into the very mainstream of American culture. From Internet pornography to MTV, pop culture industries bombard us with sexualized images of idealized women and men that jump off the screen and into our lives, shaping our gender identities, our body image, and especially our intimate relationships. In this multimedia presentation based on her acclaimed book, leading anti-porn feminist and scholar Gail Dines argues that the dominant images and stories disseminated by the multibillion-dollar pornography industry produce and reproduce a gender system that undermines equality and encourages violence against women. In direct opposition to claims that porn has delivered a more liberated, edgy sexuality, Dines reveals a mass-produced vision of sex that is profoundly sexist and destructive - a vision that limits our ability to create authentic, equal relationships free of violence and degradation. An ideal introduction to the core arguments of the feminist anti-pornography movement.

HOW RACISM HARMS WHITE AMERICANS

Distinguished historian John H. Bracey Jr. offers a provocative analysis of the devastating economic, political, and social effects of racism on white Americans. In a departure from analyses of racism that have focused primarily on white power and privilege, Bracey trains his focus on the high price that white people, especially working class whites, have paid for more than two centuries of divisive race-based policies and attitudes. #15333/0685 52 minutes 2013 $69.95 (Colleges & Universities $129.95) *CC *SA

WHITE LIKE ME: Race,

Racism and White Privilege in America *Clip on website

For years, Tim Wise's bestselling books and spellbinding lectures have challenged some of our most basic assumptions about race in America. WHITE LIKE ME is the first film to bring the full range of his work to the screen - to show how white privilege continues to shape individual attitudes, electoral politics, and government policy in ways too many white people never stop to think about. #15663/0685 66 minutes 2013 $149.95 (Colleges & Universities $279.95) *CC *SA

THROUGH A LENS DARKLY *Clip on website

"A powerful, comprehensive visual examination of the African-American image from the beginning of the photography medium to the present. Over 950 mostly original photographs of African Americans assist in weaving stories of representation, exclusion, pride, dignity, pain, shame, hate and stereotypical depictions that have been prominent in American culture." Documentary Magazine

This is the first documentary to explore the role of photography in shaping the identity, aspirations and social emergence of African Americans from slavery to the present. Probes the recesses of American history by discovering images that have been suppressed, forgotten and lost. These images show a much more complex and nuanced view of American culture and society and its founding ideals. Inspired by Deborah Willis's book Reflections in Black and featuring the works of Carrie Mae Weems, Lorna Simpson, Anthony Barboza, Hank Willis Thomas, Coco Fusco, Clarissa Sligh and many others. #15936/0645 92 minutes 2013 $399.95 *CC *SA

WOMEN'S STUDIES

PASSIONATE POLITICS: The Life and Work of Charlotte Bunch *Clip on website

Professor Charlotte Bunch's work focuses on the application of feminist theory to public policy questions, particularly at the global level. Her current investigations center on developing an analysis and understanding of human rights that incorporates women's lives more fully and utilizes the question of violence against women as a way of exploring the parameters of their issues both theoretically and practically. Her other public policy work has focused on issues of gender and international development. *Includes 48-page Discussion Guide

"They cannot stop me. I will get my education", declares Malala Yousafzai in this riveting ABC News interview, filmed in the wake of the young activist's 2013 trip to the United States. Her resoluteness and courage are unmistakable, but as she speaks with reporter Diane Sawyer about her mission and her near-fatal confrontation with the Taliban, Malala's quite understandable fear and vulnerability also emerge. From her family and cultural background to her vision of a world in which education is available to all, Malala's presence on camera is truly compelling and leaves no doubt as to her significance in the global struggle for women's rights. #15776/0635 39 minutes 2013 $149.95 *CC

*Women's International Film Festival, Miami, FL, 2009

*American Psychological Association Convention, Toronto, 2009

*American Sociological Association Film & Video Festival, San Francisco, CA 2009

(UN)VEILED introduces the audience to ten Muslim women from various backgrounds who now live in Dubai, United Arab Emirates. Their discussion about hijab, the headscarf, revolves around a lecture on the same topic that was banned last minute but delivered anyway. In a time when Islam and especially Muslim women are represented as monolithic and beset by backwardness, the women in (un)veiled show the diverse, lively, argumentative debates in Muslim societies about the meanings of modernity, emancipation, and feminism. Dubai, where the filmmaker lived for eight months, becomes a character in itself, showing the complex face of a contemporary Arab city.

*New! HOUSEMAIDS

The employment of housemaids is almost obligatory among the middle and upper classes of Brazil. Housemaids are an integral part of the household and participate in the day-to-day life of the family. The vast majority of these housemaids are black women, who face high levels of inequality based on their gender, race and social class. Their role in the household raises important questions about public and private space, endurance and choice, and labor and family life.

Director Gabriel Mascaro asked seven adolescents to film their family's housemaids for one week, and hand the footage over to him. Their images uncover the complex relationship that exists between housemaids and their employers, a relationship that confuses intimacy and power in the workplace and provides us with an insight into the echoes of a colonial past that linger in contemporary Brazil.

New! VULVA 3.0 (In German with English Subtitles)

"Amusing and horrifying by turns, but consistently fascinating throughout." *The Hollywood Reporter

With their comprehensive and unflustered research into the history of this particular aspect of the female anatomy in the 21st century, the directors shed light on every facet of the matter in hand, from sex education to censorship, from the airbrushing of 'misshapen' labia in pornographic images to the work of activists against female genital mutilation - and in doing so celebrate the diversity of the female body. We live in hyper-sexualized times. The press, advertisements and TV are constantly putting naked women and their genitalia on display. But many women are still deeply prudish when it comes to the relationship with their own body. In public we see airbrushed, de-individualized anatomies which conform to the standards of attractiveness used by the porn industry. The ideal image of the smooth, perfectly shaped vulva with symmetrical labia has little to do with the actual shape of most female genitalia. The resultant insecurity many women feel about their own bodies has proven to be a goldmine for cosmetic genital surgery which promises to manufacture the perfect vagina via the surgeon's scalpel.

New! CONSUMERISM AND THE LIMITS TO IMAGINATION

In this illustrated presentation, media scholar Justin Lewis makes a compelling case that consumer capitalism can no longer deliver on its promise of enhancing quality of life, and argues that changing direction will require changing our media system and our cultural environment. Showing how consumer capitalism has become economically and environmentally unsustainable, Lewis explores how our cultural and information industries make it difficult to envision other forms of human progress by limiting critical thinking and keeping us locked in a cycle of consumption. He argues that change will only be possible if we take culture seriously and transform the very way we organize our media and communications systems.

GOOGLE AND THE WORLD BRAIN: The Audacious Attempt to Control Human Knowledge *Clip on website

*Winner of many awards In 1937, the science fiction writer H. G. Wells imagined a "World Brain" containing all of the world's knowledge, accessible to all people, that would be "so compact in its material form and so gigantic in its scope and possible influence" that it could transcend even nation states and governments. Seventy years later, Google set about realizing Wells' vision, launching a massive project to scan millions of books from university library collections - and triggering a fierce backlash in the process. When it was discovered that over half of the first ten million books Google scanned were still in copyright, authors from around the world joined together to wage a fierce legal battle against the Internet giant, culminating in a dramatic courtroom showdown in 2011. In gripping detail, GOOGLE AND THE WORLD BRAIN tells the fascinating story of this complicated struggle over intellectual property and access to human knowledge, offering crucial insights into broader debates surrounding data-mining and privacy, downloading and copyright, fair use, freedom and surveillance. *The DVD includes the feature length documentary (93 minutes), as well as an abridged version (54 minutes) shortened for use in the classroom. #15669/0685 2013 $149.95 (Colleges & Universities $349.95) *CC *SA

New! WHAT'S FOR DINNER? *Winner of many awards

Official Selection, Environmental Film Festival in the Nation's Capital, Washington, DC

Official Selection, San Diego Asian Film Festival 2011, San Diego, California

Meat is now central to billions of people's daily meals. The environmental, climate, public health, ethical, and human impacts are enormous and remain largely undocumented. WHAT'S FOR DINNER? explores this terrain in fast-globalizing China through the eyes of a retired pig farmer in rural Jiangxi province; a vegan restaurateur in Beijing; a bullish young livestock entrepreneur; and residents of the province known as the 'world's factory' contending with water polluted by wastes from pig factory farms. They personalize the vast trends around them, in a country on the cusp of becoming a world power. Given that every fifth person in the world is Chinese, what the Chinese eat and how China produces its food, affects not only China, but the world, too. #15950/0899 29 minutes 2014 $249.95 *CC

CUSTOMER SERVICE ESSENTIALS *Clips on website

Whether it happens in person, by telephone, or online, good customer service is vital. In fact, it's just as important as advertising or product quality in building a company's reputation and it can decide, ultimately, whether or not that company will survive. This three-part series illustrates best practices for delivering effective customer service, focusing on what an individual employee can and should do to improve his or her attitudes and behavior toward the customer. Each episode features dramatizations that help to illustrate real-world lessons, while easy-to-read text summaries follow each segment, enabling viewers to further consider and discuss concepts.

*WINNER! 2013 TELLY AWARD *Clip on website*

Loyal, happy customers and clients are the foundation of your success. The best customer service is how they get that way! Your business or organization wouldn't exist without your customers. But sometimes this all-important fact gets lost in the demands of daily activities. This award-winning video is the solution. Great for new hires or energizing your current team, it uses humor to show employees that being good at customer service (and taking pride in their work) is not only a job requirement but can be personally satisfying as well. #15516/1005 18 minutes 2013 $189.95 *CC *SA

CUSTOMER SERVICE: The Telephone Connection *Clip on website

Excellent telephone customer requires dedication, skill - and enthusiasm. This video portrays traditional and nontraditional customer service roles, ranging from a mail order company to a medical setting, from a corporate admin to a warehouse supervisor. Everyone in the organization has customers - internal and/or external. Also touches on the finer points, such as upselling and cross-selling.. And how to handle angry or dissatisfied customers in a way that both solves the problem and ultimately strengthens the relationship. This video conveys the communication skills and positive attitude necessary to provide excellent service.

WORKPLACE ETHICS and MANAGING ETHICS **WINNER 2013 PLATINUM REMI* **Clips on website*

Ethics matter - not just the big scandals you see in the news, but the small everyday decisions that add up, too. In fact, that's where you need to draw the line - before serious damage is done. These videos follow four realistic scenarios that demonstrate the importance of basic values such as respect for others, fairness, and honesty. And they teach a three-part decision-making process that helps employees find their way to a solution even in complex situations where the right answer doesn't come easily.

WORKPLACE ETHICS - Employees will learn to recognize behaviors that may do harm, determine whether they are personally responsible to take action, and compare possible outcomes to select the solution that best repairs the ethical breakdown while protecting the integrity of the organization. #15078 16 minutes

MANAGING ETHICS brings managers and supervisors into the same situations as above, and supplements their ethics training with ethical leadership skills necessary for maintaining an ethical workplace. Your managers and supervisors will learn how to share core values in ways that employees can personally understand, live the values themselves every day, and take appropriate action. #15079 17 minutes

BULLYING IN THE WORKPLACE *WINNER! 2013 GOLD REMI

This package includes two programs - one for employees and one for managers.. Both programs are Closed Captioned and include two 30-page booklets which reinforce the definitions and topics covered in the videos, and include Quizzes and Certificates of Completion.

BULLYING AND RESPECT IN THE WORKPLACE (for Employees)

Have respect and good manners begun to slip in your workplace? Is rude behavior becoming the norm? Bullies often act just under the radar, denying their hostile intent or shrugging off their behaviors as humorous or insignificant. Yet, the constant tension they create - and the way their harmful activities tend to build over time - not only damages the individual targets of their behavior but also the workgroup as a whole. That's why you need to bring bullying out into the open. So you can deal with it directly and put an end to it. These programs are intended to do just that. As for any bullies who may be watching: this video clearly shows that mistreating a fellow employee makes you look bad in the eyes of others and will not be tolerated in your workplace.

MANAGING THE WORKPLACE BULLY (for Managers)

What do you do if you're the supervisor or manager of a problem employee? What if you are the target of bullying behavior, yourself? Or if you are accused of acting like a bully? As a manager, it's up to you to be a role model. You need to insist on being treated respectfully yourself, and you need to provide a safe and respectful atmosphere for your people. This program tackles these issues head on, providing practical solutions that help you put an end to bullying behavior in your subordinate - and find new ways to deal with your own frustrations so that you don't end up looking like the bad guy. #15735/1005 Two programs 2013 $189.95 each or Series $349.95 *CC *SA

HARASSMENT: Sex, Religion and Beyond *WINNER! 2013 GOLD REMI *Clips on Website

Every employee needs to understand one basic truth: a respectful workplace is more pleasant and more productive for everyone. These two programs bring this message home, showing that bad behavior is not OK - whether it applies to sex, religion, or anything beyond - and whether it actually crosses the line into illegal harassment or not.

1. In a series of compelling stories, the EMPLOYEE VERSION (19 minutes) explains the law. But it also captures the imagination and personalizes the value of inclusiveness by showing the potential harm that can be caused by unwelcome conduct.
2. Supervisors and managers have the added responsibility of maintaining a harassment-free work environment for everyone. Using the compelling stories from the employee program, the MANAGER VERSION (24 minutes) explains to supervisors the potential harm that can be caused by unwelcome conduct, and their responsibility for preventing it. They receive specific instruction on steps they should take in meeting these responsibilities. This video portrays supervisors who step in early, before problems escalate. And it emphasizes the theme that a respectful workplace is more pleasant and more productive - which, in the end, makes their job easier.

In both versions, attorney moderators, Stephanie Schaeffer and Greg Dehm, provide commentary on the stories and discuss the issues frankly and openly. Managers are provided with concise direction concerning their specific responsibilities.

Just arrived... TEACH KIDS FINANCIAL LITERACY with these NEW BIZ KID$ programs!!!

***Created by the producers of BILL NYE THE SCIENCE GUY!!!

Biz Kid$ is a national financial education initiative based on an Emmy Award-winning public television series about kids, money, and business. The series includes 65 episodes and reaches over million viewers per episode. Using a clever blend of entertainment and education, each Biz Kid$ episode shows kids how to make and manage money by introducing concepts of financial literacy and entrepreneurship. To keep young viewers engaged, the series includes a fast-paced mix of direct education delivered by young actors, sketch comedies, animation, and stories featuring real life young entrepreneurs. The show is complemented by a resource rich website, lesson plans, outreach activities, and a monthly electronic newsletter. All programs are 30 minutes (except THREE MINUTES TO CHANGE THE WORLD) and available separately for $109.95 or the entire series for $6,259.95 *Closed Captioned

THREE MINUTES TO CHANGE THE WORLD (Biz Kid$)

Follows four young entrepreneurs as they compete in an international contest to change the world. Sharing their lives, passions, joys and hardships, these semi-finalists from the United States, Canada, India and Singapore must present their business ideas to some of the world's most influential technology leaders - in just 180 seconds!

YOU ARE THE TARGET

...of advertisers, that is. Kids and teens are subjected to thousands of commercial messages every day. This episode helps you recognize when you are being targeted, how to resist manipulation, and when to apply good consumer skills to cut through the commercial fog.

BUILDING YOUR BUSINESS ONLINE (Biz Kid$)

In today's world, great tools are available for you to build a business on line. The Biz Kids investigate the advantages and potential pitfalls in Internet businesses. Hear about the success of a young graphic designer, a nine-year-old who sells bath salts, and two teens who built a social networking site - all who built their businesses online.

MARKETING MIX (Biz Kid$)

Now that you've decided to start a business, how will you market it? Let the Biz Kids help you understand the four P's of marketing: product, price, place and promotion. Learn how "Exclusive Cuts" barber services, "Wow, Take a Bow" dog grooming, and other businesses use unique methods to market their products and services.

ARE YOU FINANCIALLY LITERATE?

Understanding how to manage money before you get to high school will make you even more successful when you move out on your own. Explore the skills of goal setting, budgeting, saving, and money management that make you financially literate! Meet two kids who make a habit of saving from their egg business, and a boxer budgeting his way to financial success.

SCAMS (Biz Kid$)

It's a complicated world and there are many ways you can be taken advantage of or cheated. Learn how to recognize a scam, and how to protect yourself from identity theft, online fraud, pyramid schemes, and more. Meet two aspiring models, a ballet dancer, and young filmmaker, who were all victims of a scam.

IT'S A JOB GETTING A JOB (Biz Kid$)

It's a job getting a job and Biz Kid$ is here to help. Learn tips and tricks for writing a great resume, dressing for success, and nailing the interview. Get the inside scoop on what employers look for from a young entrepreneur who manages over 200 employees.

WHAT'S IN THE BOOKS

Poor record-keeping adds up to lost money. This episode examines bookkeeping and accounting, income and expenses, profit and loss, and gives tips on how to get over math anxiety (in case you have it). Meet the youngest Harlem Globetrotter who does a slam dunk with his books.

WHERE IS MY ALLOWANCE

Learn how some kids get an allowance based on chores, and others just for being part of the family. Either way you need to know about the three things you can do with your allowance -- spend, save, share. Meet a family who's not afraid to talk about money with their kids, and young entrepreneurs who are using their allowance to invest in their futures.

THE WORLD IS A RISKY PLACE (Biz Kid$)

Taking risks in life is important, but you want to be smart about those risks. Learn about liability, contracts, and insurance, and how having these in place can protect your business, your assets, and yourself. Meet two young tennis coaches who protect themselves with contracts, and the owner of Small Town Skateshop who keeps his business insured.

ECONOMIC CYCLES

Cycles in the economy go up and down. Learn how cycles can affect a business. Discover how you can protect yourself against negative effects and plan for the positive trends. Meet a young man who made paintball profitable and a family who mines for gold.

THE ART OF NEGOTIATING

Discover strategies for effective negotiations with your parents, teachers, friends, siblings, and bosses. Even if you are simply working out the shared schedule with your brother to walk the dog, you'll find out how to achieve your goals and arrive at a winning solution for everyone. Discover the success of teens who run "Grand Slam Garage Sales" and another young man who sells Star Wars memorabilia.

BUSINESS STRUCTURES

What structure is right for your future business? It's not just "incorporated" anymore. Join us and learn about LLCs, sole proprietorships, partnerships, and more. Examine the pros and cons of each business structure and discover which one could be right for you. Meet two girls who were able to start both a non-profit and a for-profit, all from selling honey.

THE GREEN ECONOMY

Join the Biz Kids on a green mission and discover your impact on the environment. Explore different ways to become part of the green economy and learn how there's green to be made in thinking green. Take a ride on the "The Big Green Bus" and find out how to turn poop into profits with "Zoo Doo".

THE STOCK MARKET

Have you ever tried to read the financial pages in the newspaper or understand the bottom of the TV screen financial ticker? It's almost like reading the sports page with its own set of stats. Biz Kid$ takes us through the language of the stock market, as we meet several young investors such as a visually-impaired painter, and two students who played the SIFMA Stock Market Game.

SECRETS TO SUCCESS

The secret to success is actually simple - it's all about staying in school and building the best toolbox for your future. Learn about the many ways to pay for your education and the importance of learning every day of your life.

WHEEL OF MISFORTUNE

Find out how to avoid common money mistakes such as overspending, too much debt, lack of planning, or no emergency fund. Learn the importance of setting financial goals and having a good plan. Hear the stories of kids who learned from their financial mistakes.

THE ECONOMICS OF ECONOMICS

Here's a lighter look at the complex science. Learn about everything from micro to macro economics, supply and demand, and economic indicators. See how business owners and even individuals use economic principles to make financial decisions. Meet a young entrepreneur who started her serving business up when the economy turned down. It's all economics!

LEARNING FROM FAILURE

Have you ever made a decision you regret? Let the Biz Kids show you how mistakes can actually make you stronger and more successful. Meet several business owners who all learned from their mistakes including a magician, oyster harvesters, and a pizza proprietor.

NATIVE PLANET: The Fight for Mother Earth

NATIVE PLANET is a six part documentary series that takes you around the world to experience the passion and connection native peoples have with mother earth - and their will to defend it. In each one hour program, guide and narrative host Simon Baker transports you to the front lines of the most compelling Aboriginal conflicts taking place around the planet today.

Whether the fight is for land, water or indigenous rights, these programs take you deep into fascinating Aboriginal communities and cultures where charismatic leaders are waging a passionate defence of the planet. When climate change and environmental disasters dominate headlines and influence social change, NATIVE PLANET intimately reveals an indigenous perspective on issues that may soon determine the balance of humanity on earth.

Program One - NEW ZEALAND - RESTORING THE "MAURI"

Host Simon Baker travels to New Zealand's North Island to see how science and indigenous knowledge are combining to breathe life back into a sacred lake decimated by years of industrial pollution.

Program Two - ECUADOR - SAVING PACHAMAMA (Mother Earth)

Host Simon Baker travels to Ecuador and deep into the Amazon jungle to meet one Aboriginal tribe waging an international fight to keep oil companies and their government off their territory.

Program Three - CANADA - LIVING WITH THE TAR SANDS

From his home in the Squamish Nation, Canada host Simon Baker traces the path of the proposed Northern Gateway pipeline, from the Oil Sands in Alberta to the tanker terminal planned for Kitimat, B.C. to understand why First Nations are opposed.

Program Four - HAWAII - THE STOLEN NATION

Host Simon Baker travels to Hawaii to examine the growing native sovereignty movement and how it helped halt construction of the largest public infrastructure project in Hawaii's history.

Program Five - UNITED STATES - SURVIVING THE COLD WAR AND URANIUM MINING

Host Simon Baker examines the environmental and social impact that abandoned uranium mines and the cold war nuclear testing are having on the Navajo Nation.

Program Six - AUSTRALIA - PROTECTING THE "SONG LINE"

Host Simon Baker travels to Northwest Australia - where culture is more important than profit - to visit one Aboriginal tribe defending their 'song lines' and way of life as their government and corporations attempt to develop the world's largest natural gas fields around them.
